This section contains a tracing guide on the left with four shapes: a right-angled triangle, a scalene triangle, an isosceles triangle, and a diamond. Each shape has a small arrow indicating the starting point and direction of the stroke. To the right is a large, empty grid for independent practice. On the far right is a line drawing of a strawberry with a stem and leaves, and several seeds on its surface.

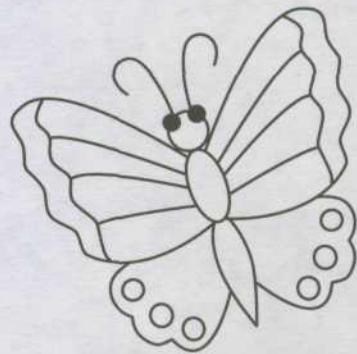

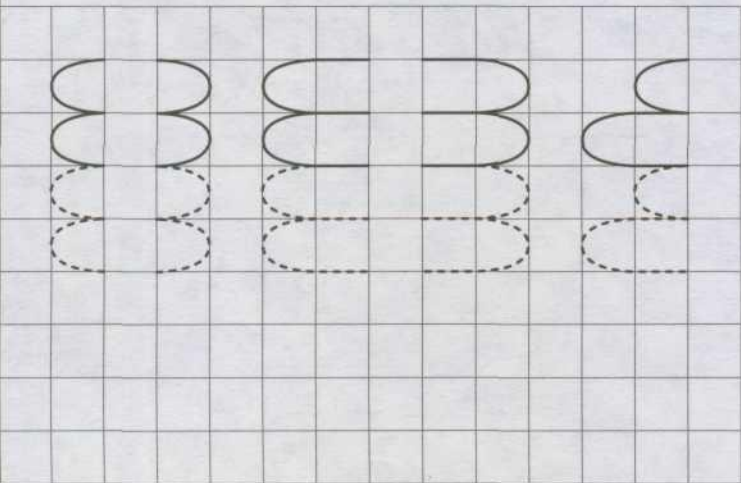

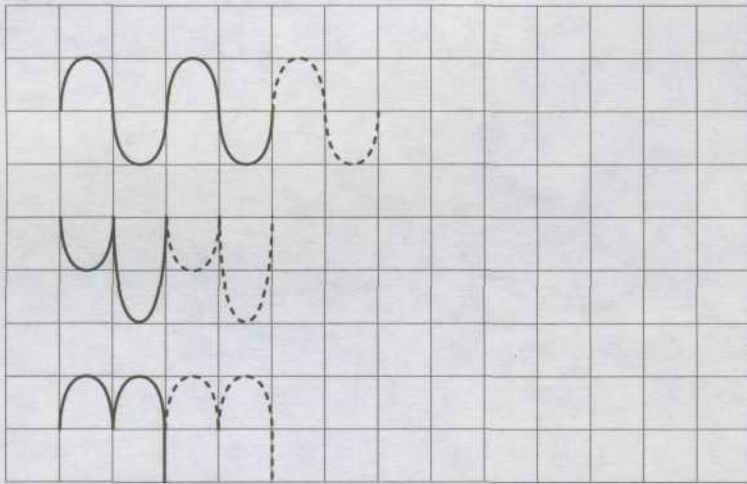

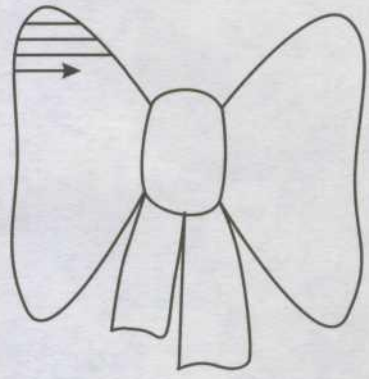

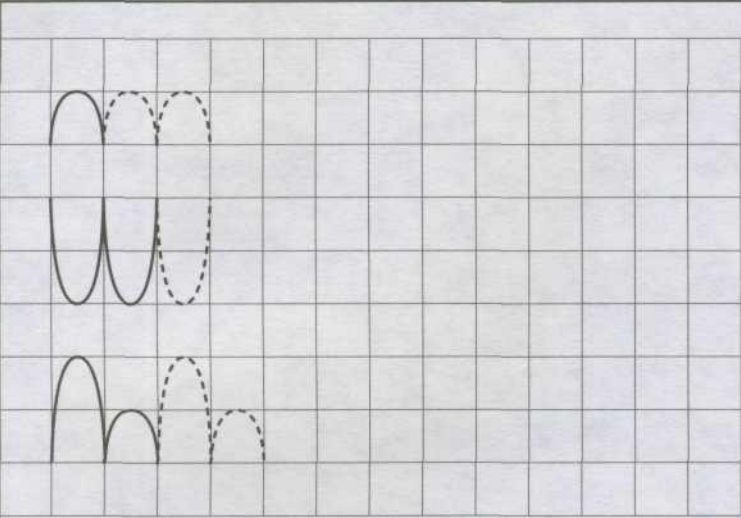

This section features two dashed-line drawings of carrots on the left for tracing. To the right is a tracing guide with three shapes: a right-angled triangle, a square, and an inverted triangle, each with a red stroke and a small arrow. Further right is a large, empty grid for practice.

This section includes a tracing guide on the left with four shapes: a tree-like shape with a vertical stem and two diagonal branches, another tree-like shape with a vertical stem and two diagonal branches, a third tree-like shape with a vertical stem and two diagonal branches, and an inverted triangle. Each shape has a red stroke and a small arrow. To the right is a large, empty grid for practice. On the far right is a line drawing of a pea pod with several peas inside, and a bell pepper.

This worksheet is designed for tracing practice on a grid. It is divided into three main sections:

- Top Section: A grid containing two rows of shapes. The first row shows a four-petaled flower, with the first one solid and the second one dashed. The second row shows two ovals, with the first one solid and the second one dashed. To the right of the grid is a balloon with a shaded top section and a wavy string.
- Middle Section: A grid containing a dashed letter 'F' on the left. To the right, there are two rows of patterns: a zigzag line (solid and dashed) and a wavy line (solid and dashed).
- Bottom Section: A grid containing two rows of shapes. The first row shows a five-petaled flower, with the first one solid and the second one dashed. The second row shows a zigzag pattern (solid and dashed). To the right of the grid is a ball of yarn with a wooden peg.
